Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), and (e)
(Effective 12/1/07)

(c) Protecting a Person
Subject to a Subpoena.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden
or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The issuing court must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction - which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees - on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce
Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not
Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises - or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the issuing court for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the issuing court must quash or modify a subpoena that:

(i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;

(ii) requires a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer to travel more than 100 miles from where that person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person - except that, subject to Rule 45(c)(3)(B)(iii), the person may be commanded to attend a trial by traveling from any such place within the state where the trial is held;

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the issuing court may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

(i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information;

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party; or

(iii) a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(c)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

(i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and

(ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(d) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information.

These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld.
A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

(i) expressly make the claim; and

(ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced.
If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) Contempt. The issuing court may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena. A nonparty's failure to obey must be excused if the subpoena purports to require the nonparty to attend or produce at a place outside the limits of Rule 45(c)(3)(A)(ii).

DEFINITIONS

As used in this request, the following words shall have the following meanings:

1. "Documents" includes, without limitation, any and all writing, recording or copies in your actual or constructive possession, including but not limited to correspondence, e-mail and other electronic data or correspondence, memoranda, notes, messages, diaries, minutes, books, reports, charts, ledgers, invoices, computer printouts, microfilms, video tapes, tape recording, account opening materials, due diligence materials, account statements, written instructions, account officer notes, agreements, contracts and tax-related information and any and all metadata that may be associated with any electronic data.

2. The relevant period of time covered by the subpoena is January 1, 2009, through the present, unless otherwise stated in the request.

3. The "Green Energy Investment Agreement" refers to the agreement, and any modifications or successor agreements, entered into between the Government of Ontario, on the one hand, and Samsung C&T Corporation and Korea Electric Power Corporation, on the other, on January 21, 2010.

4. The "Original Korean Consortium" collectively refers to Samsung C&T Corporation and Korea Electric Power Corporation. Requests made with respect to the Original Korean Consortium in all cases should include documents referring or addressed to parent companies, subsidiaries or affiliates of any of its members.

5. The "Korean Consortium" collectively refers to Samsung C&T Corporation, Korea Electric Power Corporation, and Pattern Energy Group LP. Requests made with respect to the Korean Consortium in all cases should include documents referring or addressed to parent companies, subsidiaries or affiliates of any of its members.

6. "Communications" means and includes any disclosure, consultations, telephonic conferences, and transfer or exchange of information between two or more persons, whether orally or in writing, including, without limitation, any conversation or discussion by means of meeting, letter, telephone, note, memorandum, telegraph, telex, telecopier, electronic mail, or any other electronic or other medium, whether written, audio, or video.

7. The singular includes the plural and vice versa; the terms "and" and "or" shall be both conjunctive and disjunctive; the past tense includes the present tense and vice versa; the term "including" means "including but not limited to"; the term "all" means "any and all"; and the term "any" means "each and every" as well as "any one"; "relating to," "related to," "relates to," and "with respect to" shall be used interchangeably to mean concerning, comprising, involving, directed to, created by, sent to, received by, copied to, responsible for, or in any way logically or factually connected to the subject of the request.

8. A document is deemed to be within the producing party's possession, custody or control if it is in the possession, custody or control (actual or constructive) of the producing party, any entity owned by or in which the producing party has an interest, or any of the producing party's officers, directors, employees, representatives, agents, accountants, relatives, other fiduciaries or any other person or entity acting for or on behalf of the producing party.

9. If any document requested herein was formerly in the producing party's possession, custody or control and has been lost or destroyed, or otherwise disposed of, the witness is requested to submit, in lieu of any such document, a written statement: (i) describing in detail the nature of the document and its contents; (ii) identifying the person who prepared or authorized the document, and if applicable, the person to whom the document was sent, copied or blind copied; (iii) specifying the date on which the document was prepared or transmitted; and (iv) specifying, if possible, the date on which the document was lost or destroyed, and if destroyed, the conditions of and reason for such destruction and the person(s) requesting and/or performing the destruction.

10. If any document request herein is withheld on the basis of any claim of privilege, the producing party is requested to submit a list identifying each such document by stating its date, its signatory or signatories, if signed, each person who participated in its preparation, the address or addresses of the person or persons by whom it was received, the present or last known location and custodian of the original of the document (or, if that is unavailable, the most legible copy thereof), and the basis for the producing party's claim of privilege with respect thereto.

11. This request is a continuing one and any document obtained subsequent to production which would have been produced had it been available or if its existence had been known at the time of production shall be produced forthwith.
